

Digital solutions to support the NHS

A woman in a white lab coat is looking at a computer monitor displaying medical imaging software. The monitor shows various medical scans, including a brain scan and a skeletal scan. In the background, two other people in lab coats are looking at a large screen displaying more medical images. The scene is set in a modern hospital or medical office.

Managed Services

Technology is forever evolving and we understand that the NHS must continually move forward to respond to changes in society. To ensure the NHS is fit for future patients, families and staff, your trust should consider the critical priorities that will support your digital transformation journey and ultimately improve health care services.

Through our Managed Services framework, we offer a number of services that can support your trust and provide access to market leading suppliers who can implement strategic methods for improving business processes whilst cutting operating costs.

A healthcare professional, likely a nurse or doctor, is shown in a hospital hallway. She is wearing teal scrubs and has a stethoscope around her neck. She is holding a tablet computer and looking at the screen with a slight smile. The background is a blurred hospital corridor with white walls and doors.

Software

We are committed to supporting the NHS to help achieve better outcomes for your people and processes by providing access to compliant software solutions. We understand the importance of software, especially for the NHS who use it in everyday tasks. A reliable software solution can help manage data, scheduling and activities but can also improve efficiency and ultimately enhance a patient's experience.

Our Software framework covers the provision of a full range of software, essential hardware and associated services and support and maintenance for cloud-based, on-premise and hybrid software solutions. It includes market leading suppliers who are experts in cutting edge technology, developed to transform and innovate your trust.
